The Life of Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) was a life dedicated to the service of Allah (God) alone. It is a life of sacrifice and hardship, spent for the sake of delivering the divinely revealed message of Islam to mankind. Over 1,400 years later, it is a life that all Muslims look up to and still wish to emulate. It is a life which, for centuries has been misunderstood by many people throughout Europe.

Following the recent cartoon controversy, that astounded Muslims worldwide, The Islamic Cultural Centre and Exhibition Islam have worked jointly to launch a ground-breaking exhibition to highlight the reality of the Life of Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him), who Muslims believe to be the last Prophet sent by Allah to guide humanity to the divinely revealed message of Islam. The message of Islam is one of justice, tolerance, equality, and service to humanity, of community harmony and peaceful existence but above all the servitude to Allah alone.

This modern and lavish exhibition aims to dispel the myths surrounding the life of Prophet Muhammad (peace be upon him) and promises to deliver a true and precise analysis of his life and message.
